Pianist to appear as part of community concert series

The Community Concert Association of Scranton presents, as its third event of their five-part 1983-84 concert season, the gifted talents of Horacio Gutierrez, appearing at the Masonic Temple in Scranton on Thursday, December 8.

One of the most highly acclaimed pianists of his generation, his career is marked by continuing collaboration with many eminent international conductors including Maazel, Mehta, Previn, Leinsdirf, Conlon, Livine, Comissiona, Andrew Davis and Mata. His performances with the major orcehstras of London, Paris, and the Berlin Philharmonic as well as the orchestras of Cleveland, Los Angeles, New York, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, Montreal, Detroit and Washington, D.C. highlight his professional career. As a recitalist he has appeared on the most prestigious concert stages in the United States, Canada, Europe, South America, Isreal and the Soviet Union.

The Scranton Community Concert Association has brought to its members most of the oustanding artists of our time. The balance of the current concert season includes The Black Light Theater of Prague on February 22, 1984, and The Empire Brass Quintet on April 25, 1984. Adjusted season memberships are still available by phoning Esther Singer, Pike St., or 1-343-8687, or writing to the Concert Office, Room 102, Chamber of Commerce Building, Scranton, Pa., 18503. All concerts are held at the Masonic Temple in Scranton and begin at 8 p.m.
